This is a test PDF document used for parser integration testing.

The PDF parser should extract text from each page separately.

This page contains introductory content.

This is the second page of the test PDF.

It contains additional content to verify multi-page parsing.

The parser should return two PageSchema objects.